THE STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The State Press Association held its annual meeting this year in the city of Georgetown. To say that it was one of the most pleasant and successful in the history of the Association would be to express it but inadequately, to say the least. The attendance was good and this meeting has been an inspiration and an impetus to the Association. In fact this meeting has put new life into the Association. It has been just eleven years since the annual meeting was held there, but the Georgetown of today is not the Georgetown of eleven years ago, except in the open hearted hospitality of its citizens, the chivalry of its men and the beauty and loveliness of its women. These have been proverbial for all time and are not to be obliterated by the commercialism of the present day, but stand as bright jewels in the crown of one of the most progressive of the coast cities of the Atlantic.

A leaflet which the Georgetown people are distributing states that Georgetown has

A population of nearly 6,000, and yearly increasing.

An annual commerce of $7,000,000.

An annual port tonnage of 350,000 tons.

One thousand miles of navigable rivers, waterway nearly three-fourths of South Carolina and part of North Carolina.

Railroad facilities that afford close connection with all points North, South, East and West, via the Georgetown and Western Railroad, connecting at Lane's with the Atlantic Coast Line system.

Two steamship lines to New York and Boston.

One steamship line to Wilmington, N. C.

One steamer to Charleston.

Steamers on all tributary rivers.

A live board of trade.

Two local building and loan associations.

Good banking facilities.

A Land Association, offering city lots and truck farms on easy terms.

Fine graded schools.

Handsome churches of all denominations.

The largest and finest lumber plant in the world.

Good telegraph and telephone systems.

Two good newspapers.

Large shad and sturgeon fisheries.

The greatest game preserves in the country.

The finest beach on the Atlantic coast—the Pawley's Island summer resort—a place free of mosquitoes.

Pure water supply.

Broad streets well laid out and abundantly shaded with oak and elm trees.

Good country roads well kept.

Many points of historic interest in city and county.

Good live, progressive and liberal business men who will welcome the capitalist, tourist and home-seeker.

Large wholesale and retail stores filled with well kept and complete stocks of merchandise, sold as cheap as at any other place in the State.

If you contemplate a change of residence write to the mayor or the president of the board of trade.

The United States Government is spending $2,000,000 building jetties and improving the harbor of Georgetown besides building a canal and improving rivers.

The flavor of colonial life, culture and tradition, mingled with snap and vim of twentieth century progress.

In addition we might add that Georgetown has a live and progressive mayor and the good judgment to keep him in harness. Hon. W. D. Morgan has been mayor for thirteen years and has been re-elected without opposition at the end of each term. We might add also that no town can grow and prosper in this age without a live mayor who has the interest of the town at heart and is not afraid to go ahead even if at times he should be criticised for spending a little money. Mr. Morgan is also president of the bank. The board of trade is live and progressive because at its head is the Hon. Walter Hazard, one of the ablest lawyers and one of the most polished gentlemen in the State, and who is also a live and progressive citizen, deeply interested in the prosperity of the community.

Mr. L. S. Ehrlich was chairman of the banquet committee, and such a banquet as was spread is rarely seen. But we cannot specify without mentioning all of the citizens of the city, for every one did his or her part to make our stay pleasant, and the unanimity with which they worked is the secret of the success and growth of the city. That is necessary for the prosperity of any community—concert of action.

The business sessions of the Association were pleasant, harmonious and helpful, some excellent and practical papers being read. The address by Hon. Julius E. Boggs, of Pickens, on Thursday evening was forcible, eloquent and replete with wholesome advice and wise counsel, and was highly commended by all who were present. His subject was loyalty—loyalty to family, loyalty to community, loyalty to county, loyalty to State—when you have these you have the good and true citizen. We had the pleasure also of having with us the same evening the Hon. J. W. Dargan, who does some newspaper work, but who is now a teacher. He spoke on South Carolina history, and told of the lack of justice to South Carolina done by the historians adapted for use in our common schools. All he pleaded for was justice. He was not severe on any one, but could sustain his criticisms by the facts. There is no doubt we give too much attention to foreign history and not enough to the history of the town and State and community in which we live. We would be glad to have Col. Dargan address the people of every community in this State, for if he could we feel sure he would awaken a deeper interest in the study of the history of this State.

The excursion given the editors on the bay and to view the lumber plants and the jetties was a very pleasant feature of the meeting. The visit to the Atlantic Coast Lumber Co.'s plant, however, was the most interesting part of the sight seeing. This is the largest lumber plant in the world. Everything is done by machinery and yet the company employs over 3,000 men, and cuts more than half a million feet of lumber every day. It is really a revelation to see only the old fashioned sawmill to take a look at this mammoth mill and observe how logs are handled, and how rapidly they are turned into boards. It cannot be described.

The banquet was one of the prettiest and most enjoyed that we have witnessed. The guests sat down at 9:30 p. m., and the speaking closed at 4 a. m. The dinner was served in courses and lasted about two hours and the speeches were above the average, and the speakers were given the very best of attention. The ladies had charge of the decorations and supervised the preparations for the supper, and that means that it was well done.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

E. H. Aull, President, Newberry, S. C.

J. C. Garlington, 1st Vice President, Spartanburg, S. C.

Ed. H. DeCamp, 2nd Vice President, Gaffney, S. C.

C. C. Langston, Secretary, Anderson.

August Kohn, Treasurer, Columbia.

Rev. W. P. Jacobs, Chaplain, Clinton.

Executive Committee—J. E. Norment, J. M. Knight and J. W. Ragsdale.

The Association was entertained by the people of Georgetown, and it was done in most excellent style, and every member comes away with a good word for Georgetown. It was our pleasure to be the guest of Mayor W. D. Morgan, a most charming host. We had with us at the same home Col. Wm. Elliott and Col. James Armstrong.

Pleasant memories of this meeting will linger for many days with all of those who were fortunate enough to be present.

We found in Georgetown two Newberries—Dr. Matthews and Willie Bynum—both doing well and delighted with their adopted home. It could not be otherwise, for any one who would not be pleased with Georgetown would indeed be hard to satisfy.

A document containing terms of surrender of the Boer army was signed in Pretoria on the night of the 31st of May. This brings to an end the heroic struggle of the Boers for liberty, and peace now reigns in South Africa.
